FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 13, 1866.

Free as Air—The Question Settled.

"I will now give you an short, my opinion with regard to plural marriage. It is of God, and He has revealed it from the Heavens and made it obligatory upon the Saints in the last days. I am a much a believer in plural marriage as any of my brethren who have spoken. It is embraced in the faith of the Latter-day Saints and practiced by many of them. If I have a wife who wishes to leave me, let her make it known to me, and she is as free to go from me as she is to stay with me. This is my doctrine. Every wife I may possess is as free as air; if they choose to stay with me, they can stay; if they wish to leave me, they are equally as free; but they must not intrude upon their most sacred covenants, nor suffer others to intrude upon them. But otherwise from this they are as free to go as they are to stay; they can go to the east, or to the west, to the north or to the south. They are as free to go, if they so wish, as they are to drink the water of City Creek; but if they violate their covenants, the curse of God will rest upon them; and if others intrude upon our rights in our domestic relations, we mean them to suffer the penalty."

Brigham Young, in the Tabernacle, April 8th, 1853.

"Yes, John," said a careful mother to her son, "you may go a fishing; but don't you go near the water; if you do I'll whale you like blazes!" "Jake," said the Southern Planter, "you black scoundrel, you can run away any night you please; but you'll have a pack of bloodhounds on your heels before morning!" "My wives," says the Prophet, "are free to leave me whenever they choose; but they must not intrude upon their most sacred covenants." That's "freedom" for you, of the most approved Mormon pattern! It is presumed that "the most sacred covenants" a woman can take upon herself are those appertaining to her marriage rites; one of which is that she will not forsake her husband until death; nay, we believe that, in the Mormon system, not only time but eternity itself is stipulated in the bond. Now then, Brigham's wives are free to go; free to stay; in fact, they are as free as air; but they must not break their covenants. They are free to leave him, but, if they do, they must "suffer the penalty." Now, if the "penalty" is the same as was lately visited upon one who was falsely charged with having "intruded upon domestic relations," why, the w'ol' thing may be reduced to the simple proposition that "my wives can leave me if they choose; but their blood will have to atone for it!" O, but it is a beautiful system—when you are able to comprehend it!

Now, if you think the above an unfair conclusion, just read the extract again, and see if you can make anything else of it. If it does not mean that, it means nothing; and if it does mean it, it is enough to sink both the system and its defenders to the lowest depth of deepest hell! In any other community in the world we would apologize for the last expression; but it is the very essence of polite literature, compared with the majority of Tabernacle discourses.

But, says the Prophet, "I am as much a believer in plural marriages as any of my brethren who have spoken." Judging his faith by his works, Brigham's belief in plurality is unbounded. He is overmodest in claiming only an equality in that respect. If he had used the word "all" instead of "any," it would have better expressed the situation. But, however that may be, the question of Polygamy is, we presume, settled beyond controversy; for, in Brigham's opinion, "it is of God, and he has revealed it from the Heavens." Hereafter let no "saint" presume to controvert or enlarge upon that "opinion." The mandate has gone forth, the words are spoken, the record is made up, the decision is rendered. Let the "Miltonian articles" be forgotten, and let the "Physiological Argument" be remembered no more forever! "Polygamy is of God," for Brigham Young hath opined it! Does not that settle the matter, O ye of little faith?

THE PAURANGAT MINES.—These new mines are located in a fertile valley, about ten miles to the west of Hiko City, in the Butte and Egan ranges of mountains, are believed to be among the twenty-five miles west of the Utah line, and about ten miles north of Arizona. Hiko City lies at the southern end of Paurangat Valley, in sight of the mines, and is the point where the principal roads of the country center, as the Salt Lake and Call's Landing roads. It is about 200 miles south of Egan, from which it is reached over a fine natural road, with no mountains to cross, and abounding in water, grass and weed, and is destined ultimately to be the center of a large and thriving community. Call's Landing, on the Colorado River, is about 100 miles due south of Hiko City, over a good road. Grain may be procured in abundance at this latter place at ten to twelve cents a pound in legal tenders. Virginia Union.

THE San Francisco Bulletin gives the California Legislature the following parting hit:

The inhabitants of California, and particularly of this city, may congratulate themselves that the Legislature has closed its labors, and that its members are on their way home to their constituents. To say that we have had during the past winter a body at Sacramento—the majority of which was fully as corrupt as the worst of its predecessors, would be but to express the firm convictions of nearly six hundred thousand dollars have been captured in the Pacific and landed in Spain.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

GENERAL NEWS.

Chicago, April 11.

Democratic State Convention of Idaho is called for June 5th. The conservative Republicans who support the President are invited to join.

At the city election, in Springfield, Ill., yesterday, the Democratic Mayor was elected by twenty-five majority, the largest vote ever polled.

At the Albany, N. Y., city election yesterday, G. H. Thatcher, Democrat, was elected Mayor by 700 majority over Robert H. Pruya.

At the Trenton, N. J., city election yesterday, the Democrats had 300 majority.

At St. Paul, Minn., the Democrats had 1,300 majority.

The first case under the civil rights bill was instituted at Lafayette, Ind., yesterday. A negro claims to enforce a contract under it, while the defendant claims the benefit of the State Constitution and black laws. Judge Gest, State Circuit, has the case under advisement, and will probably send it to the State Supreme Court, now in session.

Dispatches from Eastport, Me., represent great excitement on the border owing to the presence of a large number of Fenians, and there are fears of hostilities. There are three British war ships on the lookout. The garrison at Camp Obello Island is increased. Earthworks were thrown up and vigilant preparations are being made to prevent a raid.

Washington, April 11.

The Post-office Department has given a contract to Holladay's Line to run another overland mail to California via the Smoky Hill route and Denver, service to be commenced on the 15th instant.

The Senate has confirmed the nominations of David W. Ballard, of Oregon, as Governor of Idaho, Richard C. McCormick as Governor of Arizona, Jas. P. L. Carter, of Tennessee, as Secretary of Arizona, Moses Hallett as Chief Justice, U. D. Holloway as Marshal, and Frank Hinney, of Colorado, as Secretary McCulloch has issued a circular declaring petroleum, benzine, &c., explosive burning fluid under the intent of the steamboat act of August 3d, 1864, and requiring all steam vessels carrying passengers to procure a special permit before taking such articles on board.

The President in conversation with Gen. Howard says the peace proclamation has only such scope with reference to the States named therein as his proclamation last August with reference to Tennessee. It does not suspend the operation of military law in any of the States, and the freedmen's bureau will continue to exercise its accustomed functions. Army officers will remain on duty as its agents, and justice will continue to be administered between freedmen and whites by existing semi-military courts till the various States give the former the right to be heard in civil courts in the same manner as the latter.

The scope of the proclamation with respect to trials by courts-martials or commissions, does not seem to be well understood here and elsewhere. Department commanders of Georgia and Alabama have telegraphed for information on the subject, and it is understood the matter was brought before the Cabinet to-day. The action taken is not known, but there are good reasons for believing that the War Department will soon issue a circular of instructions.

Prominent friends of the President say he will enforce the Civil Rights Bill in good faith, quoting his remarks that he, having exercised a Constitutional prerogative in vetoing the bill, and Congress having exercised its prerogative in passing it, he should feel bound by their action. These gentlemen also express the belief that having seen the power of Congress and with what unity it is sustained by the party, he will now conform his action so that there may be harmony between them.

Gen. Howard will under verbal instructions of the President issue a circular to subordinates apprising them of the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, and instructing them to inform freedmen of its provisions and assist in maintaining its observance.

The House passed a bill this P. M. for coining a new five cent piece composed of copper and nickel, a trifle larger than a three cent piece issued last year.

New York, April 11.

The Tribune's special says the Senate yesterday failed to confirm Lewis D. Campbell, Minister to Mexico.

Considerable excitement is caused by the death of a woman, last Monday, of epidemic Asiatic cholera. The Sanitary Superintendent of the Board of Health declares the case not cholera, but the coroner declares it was and there's much excitement throughout the city.

Chicago, April 12.

The Wisconsin Legislature by a strict party vote, except two Republican members, have in each branch adopted resolutions declaring that Senator Doolittle has betrayed the people of Wisconsin, and ought to resign the resolution approving the President's policy; voted down without a single Republican vote in favor. The Legislature adjourns to day.

The Tennessee Legislature is still at a dead heat. Speaker Heysekell, Conservative, refuses to entertain any motion to refer credentials of non-members to the committee, and insists that those senators, who did not resign, but whose seats were declared vacant by the Governor, are still members. If the Speaker votes thus, there will be enough conservatives present for a quorum at any time they choose to withdraw the new Radical members who have been dead for several years.

We have sent to Washington soliciting a copy of that letter with the endorsement made upon it, and if our request is granted we will publish the same for the information of our readers.

The church leaders have made their assertions so often concerning this battalion, without contradiction that we presume they now believe the assertions to be true, notwithstanding the record of the church Presidency to the contrary in the war office of the United States.

A large Spanish man of war sailed some time ago from an English port for the Pacific, and it is now known that Admiral Luesada goes out in her to command the Spanish squadron.

Silver and copper to the value of six hundred thousand dollars have been captured in the Pacific and landed in Spain.

Washington, April 12.

Judge Underwood, who is holding a trial in the United States Court at Alexandria, yesterday decided, upon the application for a writ of habeas corpus, that the President's proclamations does not restore the privileges of that writ.

Washington, April 12.

President Johnson orders the suspension of Mayor Monroe and Alderman Nixon, of New Orleans, till pardoned. Acting Mayor Clark continues in office.

Gen. Grant was arrested last Saturday by a policeman for fast driving, and appeared to-day before the Justice of the peace and paid his fine.

Capt. H. B. Winder, imprisoned at Richmond for several months, was discharged to-day by orders from Washington.

The House spent considerable time upon the bill giving army paymasters during the late war a commission of one-quarter of one per cent, on all sums disbursed by them, as a compensation for the risks and labor. The measure would require two and a half millions of dollars, and met a very general and decided opposition, and will probably never again come to the surface.

The House passed the bill reimbursing Massachusetts for militia expenses amounting to $6,715,089.

CLEAN AS MUD.—We have been requested to publish the following letter which appeared in the Telegraph of the 10th inst., purporting to come from a Mormon woman, who thinks that Brassfield was led like a very stupid man to the altar.

"O what a comfort it is to 'Lizzie' to have 'a comfort' from any such of safety" from any such "vile insults" as Brassfield was guilty of, in being "led like a very stupid person" by a Mormon woman, "to the altar," and there united in honorable marriage! We "congratulate 'Lizzie'" that he—me mean she—is probably "safe" for all time from any such horrid fate! We wonder what the next "method of attack" will be? O "Lizzie"—a man with such a horrid beard as yours shouldn't try to pass himself off as a woman. O fie for shame!

Mr. STRICKERZ.—We women of Utah have our thoughts and feelings, and interest touching the "Brassfield-test-question case;" as you call it in your excellent paper, as well as our husbands and our brethren have; at least I have, and so have the circle of my female acquaintances. We think that Brassfield was led like a very stupid man to the altar. While our sensitive natures shudder at the spilling of the blood of man, yet the Brassfield offering upon the altar of villainy has increased in us a greater sense of security. Our husbands have to leave us sometimes to go to a distance of the earth to preach the gospel; O what a comfort it is to us to have that assurance of safety which the Brassfield evidence has given us, that we have faithful friends at home to protect us from vile insults.

Poor Brassfield, we think he has escaped a worse fate in going to the graveyard, than in living to continue the unholy alliance he had made with that woman.

She knew better than to do what she did. She receives no sympathy from any true Utah woman. We think that Brassfield had a little glimmering of good sense, if we judge from his last words; but the silly brains of his legal friends thought differently, and prepared him for the altar, and became the great High Priest of the occasion. Lizzy.

The Mormon Battalion.

We have read a great deal about the Mormon Battalion during our residence in Utah—how gallantly and promptly the Mormons responded to the unjust demands of the Government for troops. We have read the oft-repeated assertion of church leaders that in furnishing this battalion they proved their loyalty and devotion to the Government, and in the hour of their severest trial and need they furnished men to uphold the starry banner of the Republic.

Now we will narrate a few facts culled from the records of the War Office in Washington City.

The then Presidency of the Mormon Church, when the war with Mexico was declared, saw in their judgment an opening to relieve their people from much distress and misery. That Presidency wrote a letter to the Government, offering a Battalion of Mormons for the Mexican war—demanding as one of the conditions of the offer that the men should be discharged in California.

The Government accepted the offer, and with the money thus obtained supplies were procured which relieved the people from suffering and death.

The Government never demanded troops of the Mormons. They offered the troops themselves for the purpose of procuring means to avert death and starvation. This is the record of the war office, and Church leaders are requested in the future to confine their assertions to the truth of that record.

Two of the men who signed that letter tendering the troops are now living in this city and are familiarly known as B. Young and H. C. Kimball—the third signer has been dead for several years.

We have sent to Washington soliciting a copy of that letter with the endorsement made upon it, and if our request is granted we will publish the same for the information of our readers.

The church leaders have made their assertions so often concerning this battalion, without contradiction that we presume they now believe the assertions to be true, notwithstanding the record of the church Presidency to the contrary in the war office of the United States.

GEN. FOREST passed through Vera Cruz on his way to Alvarado recently. The unconstructed roads in Mexico are described as seedy and blue, and the letter writer says: "Almost every Confectioner who comes down from the interior ends the narration of his experiences with, 'Whenever I can scrape enough money together to leave this d—d country, I'm going home again.'

EXTENSIVE coal mines have been discovered in the Owyhee District, Idaho.

The Health Commissioners have ordered all the cows and hogs to be removed from the limits of the police district. The physicians declare that the cows are nearly all affected by pleuro-pneumonia, and if sent wild in the country will spread disease, causing immense loss.

PUBLIC OPINION.—The assassination of Mr. Brassfield has produced an intense excitement in Austin, Nevada. Public opinion demands the surrender of the assassins. Church leaders and defenders of the assassination will do well to give heed in time to public opinion as expressed on this subject.

O, DEAR!—Wonder if the Mormons Hierarch and abettor of assassins has had anything hit him from the east lately which makes him sick at the stomach? Sherman's bitters are good for the disease with which he is afflicted—they are infinitely more effective than a dose of salts—witness their operation on rebel-lous Georgia and South Carolina.

DISAPPOINTED.—Capt. Brown and Lt.
Weed, 2d Cav. C. V., arrived here on Wednesday from Rush Valley, seeking mustering rolls for their companies.
They arrived just in time to learn that Uncle Sam cannot dispense with their services at present. They will have to wear the blue a few weeks longer; but let them keep up good courage. Their venerable Uncle will give them their papers by and by.

OUR FELLOWS.—Utah Lodge has decided to observe the 47th anniversary of American Odd Fellowship, on the 26th of the present month, by a Parade, Oration and Ball. Full particulars will be given the public in due time. The Fraternity propose to make the occasion worthy of the day, and no effort will be spared to gratify and please all members of the Order and invited friends who may participate in the anniversary ceremonies.

NEW CIGAR STORE.—W. H. Whitehill has opened, with a fine stock of cigars, tobacco, notions, etc., three doors above the Salt Lake House. He keeps the best goods the market affords, and his store, which includes a fine reading room, is one of the most pleasant places in the city to drop in, get a fragrant Havana and learn the news.

The boys of the Vedette Office are under obligations to the new establishment for a box of A. No. 1, cigars. See advertisement in another column.

SHAKING.—"They have got a heavy dose of the ague."—Telegraph, April 6.
The disease is contagious, is it not?
It seems, also, that the signatures of those "regenerating bands" are necessary to quiet the nerves of some of the late victims of the "conspiracy!" It makes all the difference in the world when we are gored, don't? O surely the Gentiles are all "intruders" here!
And "we are only astonished that business men have not seen this point long before this!" O consistency! the name is Brigham!

Will He be Arrested?

We again call the attention to the large reward offered by the Gentle merchants and business men of this city, as per advertisement, for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer of Brassfield. That he is known and protected by those high in authority in the Mormon Church, is the general belief.— There is little prospect of their delivering him up. If he is arrested at all, it will doubtless be through the efforts of these "miserable hounds of regenerators." Well, we believe that among the Gentile population of this city there are a few who are at least equal to the emergency of making some attempt to ferret out the "mystery." And we believe that, in any lawful efforts they make towards that end, they will protect. A week ago the attempt would have been dangerous; but the aspect of things has changed somewhat within the past two days, and, through the agency of a brief despatch from Washington—a sort of "warning" which has shaken the puffed-up confidence of these assassin defenders very materially—the "ague" has been suddenly transferred from "the miserable hordes of Gentiles" to the meek and lowly "Saints," and the people have learned with unspeak-able joy, that Government will protect them, and that if any more Church murders are committed, the great "I am", even the "Lion" himself, will be held accountable.

That means something, and hence the sudden change of tone and bearing so apparent on our streets. Now, if those very penitent, anxious and "law-abiding" church-dignitaries wish to show "fruits meet for repentance," let them deliver up the murderer of Brassfield; let him be tried in their own courts, before their own judges and by juries composed of their own people. Surely they cannot ask a fairer proposition than that—unless, indeed, they are willing to be considered aiders and abettors in the murder.

COMMERCE OF THE COLORADO.—Exchanges indicate that renewed attention is being drawn to the early development of the trade of the Colorado. Since the opening of the year, fourteen vessels including one steamer, have been dispatched to that river by the two rival lines, now competing for the traffic. A com-temporary in alluding to this important subject, reiterates what we have before published, that in view of the feasibility of navigating the Colorado at all seasons of the year, with light-draught steamers and barges, has been practically demonstrated. The Pacific and Colorado Steam Navigation Company have now two small steamers—the Esmeralda and Anna Til-din—and five barges on the Colorado, and two new steamers are to be built, with the view of securing for San Francisco her proportion of the large and rapidly growing trade of the great basin between the Rocky Mountains and the Sierra Nevada.—
BEGGING THE ISSUE.—Is it not worthy of notice that as soon as the Church leaders ascertained that the assassination of Brassfield had attracted the attention of persons high in authority, they ran about the streets like cringing hounds, beging for the assistance of the very men they have for the past week denounced as every thing mean and vile—both through their press and their Tabernacle banisters. These Church leaders played a bold game of bluff—but it did not win. Their hand has been called down and does not show a pair of deuces. Moral, not physical, courage is what is demanded of the loyal citizens of Salt Lake in dealing with Church leaders who countenance and approve of assassination. It is expected that they will show it and not yield one inch to blood-bounds on the issue.
If assassination is to be approved and upheld by Church leaders, let them take the consequences—and not seek for the interposition of honorable men to screen them from the penalty. These Church leaders are understanding that the day of bluster and force has gone—a powerful government is about to make its power known, "if it takes ten thousand or even fifty thousand troops to do it."
